

The Texas AgriLife Extension Service currently collecting applications from students interested in participating in our Internship Program this coming spring. The Notice of Vacancy has just been released to GreatJobs and is ready to receive applicants.

Interested students should create an application in GreatJobs (<http://greatjobs.tamu.edu>) and apply to posting # 04490. They will be asked to attach a current resume and cover letter to the application.

Interested students can go directly to the job posting at <http://greatjobs.tamu.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=185104> .

For those students not yet familiar with Extension or needing additional information, please feel free to direct them to this location: <http://extensionintern.tamu.edu/> This site contains valuable information about the program including the intern job description, information on how to apply, and frequently asked questions about the program.
